

MNSPJ

Innovative Mapping Strategies for Journalists

Local GIS expert Paul Wickman and MinnPost reporter Jeff Severns Guntzel share strategies for telling stories with the help of cutting-edge digital mapping and open-source tools. 7-9 p.m. Nov. 22 at Coco Coworking and Collaborative, 400 S. 4th St. (4th floor), Minneapolis. Free. RSVP at www.mnspj.org.

Serious Eats

The Dish on Food Journalism in the Twin Cities

Hear from several critics in the foodie trenches and learn what it takes to literally eat your words with free appetizers and a cash bar. Panelists include Stephanie March from Mpls/St. Paul Magazine, James Norton from Heavy Table and Kim Ode from the Star Tribune. Social starts at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 29 with panel starting at 7 p.m. at Wilde Roast Café, 65 S.E. Main St., Minneapolis. Free. RSVP at www.mnspj.org.

MNSPJ wants to say thanks during Member Month

Anyone who joins MNSPJ or renews their membership in November will receive special rewards including free books from local authors, complimentary magazine subscriptions, and more.