

— “It’s time for newspaper editors and reporters to re-think and re-invent what they do.” —

Futurize the News with Tim Harrower

Feb. 11, 2011 • 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. • Marriott City Center, Minneapolis

Spend a day learning from Tim Harrower, one of the nation’s best-known news designers in print and online. Schedule includes a break for lunch on your own.

Make your stories more visual, more concise, more effective. Improve stories in print and online.

Workshop sessions include:

- Writing for Non-Readers
- Everything You Need to Know to be a Digital Journalist
- 12 Tips for Futurizing Your Packaging Design
- 101 Swiipeable Ideas

More info on Harrower workshops: <http://www.timharrower.com/workshops.html>

Pricing:

$50 for ACP or NSPA students/advisers attending Best of the Midwest convention.
$65 for nonmembers and professionals, or students/advisers not attending convention.

Register online:

<http://register.studentpress.org/FuturizeTheNews>

Sponsored by the Associated Collegiate Press and National Scholastic Press Association in conjunction with the ACP Best of the Midwest College Journalism Convention.

Contact us: info@studentpress.org • (612) 625-8335

Tim Harrower has been an editor, designer and columnist at newspapers large (The Oregonian), midsized (The Rochester Times-Union) and small (the Times weekly in Beaverton, Ore.). He became a journalist in the '80s after his first career choice — rock 'n' roll superlegend — fizzled out.

Harrower’s first book, “The Newspaper Designer’s Handbook,” has been a fixture in newsrooms and classrooms around the world, translated into Russian, Chinese and Polish. His followup, “Inside Reporting,” is America’s most popular journalism textbook.